FROM CLASS ACTION SETTLEMENTS

Acura is not accused of any wrongdoing in this class action.

WHAT IS THIS CLASS ACTION ABOUT?

Class action lawsuits were commenced in Ontario, British Columbia and Quebec alleging that automotive parts manufacturers conspired to fix the price of automotive wire harness systems sold to Acura and other automotive manufacturers. Settlements totalling approximately CAD$25.6 million were reached. Those settlement funds are ready to be distributed to class members.

The automotive wire harness systems class action is one of approximately 40 cases ongoing in Canada relating to the alleged price-fixing of various automotive parts sold to Acura or other automotive manufacturers. Settlements in six other auto parts cases have been reached with all defendants, totaling $5.6 million. Subject to court approval, those settlement funds will be distributed in conjunction with the automotive wire harness system settlements.
